L.G. HARDY GETS APPOINTMENT TO P. O.

OFFICIAL PAPERS CONVEYING POSITION RECEIVED HERE ON WEDNESDAY; APPOINTMENT OF ASSISTANT NOT YET SETTLED

Following close upon the announcement that South San Francisco's postoffice was to be put back on an independent office status, together with the suggestion from Congressman Arthur M. Free that L. G. Hardy would receive the appointment as postmaster, all of which was set forth in last week's Enterprise, Mr. Hardy received official notice of his appointment Wednesday morning of this week. The notice came in the form of a letter from the Postoffice Department at Washington. It conveyed the appointment of Mr. Hardy as acting postmaster pending the taking of the formal civil service examination. Just when the examination will be held has not yet been announced. The letter also stated that beginning October 1st this postoffice would be placed on the rating of a second class office. At the time of its taking over as a branch of the San Francisco office it was rated in the third class. The first announcement that the status of the postoffice would be changed very soon was also confirmed in this letter, which informed Mr. Hardy that he would take charge the morning of September 28th. Although no official information touching upon the point has been received here, it is supposed that the cause for the quick action of the Postoffice Department when finally a decision was reached to give independent standing to this office was the approach of the end of the quarter year in September. It is a well-known fact that most changes in the department take place at the end of different quarter years, hence this inference.

Interviewed today by The Enterprise representative, Superintendent O. Campbell, who has been in charge of the local office for nearly two years, stated that he had not yet received official notice of the change, but was expecting it hourly. He stated that in all probability the San Francisco office would allow some of the old employees who are familiar with the routine here to assist the new postmaster in getting the office started on its new basis or might allow Mr. Hardy to familiarize himself with the office before the date of his taking charge. Mr. Hardy also stated that the San Francisco postoffice officials had told him they would give all assistance possible to help him get started.

Asked as to whom he would appoint his assistant at the office, Mr. Hardy stated that this point had not yet been definitely settled.

CLUB FEDERATION MEETS AT BURLINGAME

The San Mateo County Federation of Women's Clubs held its regular meeting Wednesday at the Burlingame club house, the Burlingame club acting as hostesses. Luncheon was served to the members of the executive board. The federation endorsed the Wright act, the soldiers' bonus bill and the community property law. John Atwood, author of "Back to the Republic," addressed the convention, the subject being "The Constitution of the United States." Mrs. Leslie Lord of San Francisco gave an interesting report on the National League of Women Voters recently held in Washington, at which Nancy Astor was the principal speaker.

The next county meeting will be held at Metropolitan Hall, South San Francisco, December 6th, the South San Francisco club acting as hostesses. These meetings are well worth attending and are open to the public.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Bildhauer and Mr. and Mrs. John Fischer and family spent the week-end camping at Capitola.

YOUTH DESTROYS SELF WITH FIRE

Antone Pirc, Confirmed Drug Addict, Saturates Clothing With Gas, Then Applies Match.

"Death came from burns self-inflicted with suicidal intent." Such was the verdict of the coroner's jury Saturday morning in the case of Antone Pirc Jr. of this city, who died Friday morning of last week at the South San Francisco Hospital.

The death of the young man, who was but 20 years of age, was one of the most shocking that has occurred here for years. According to the testimony of witnesses to the rash deed that ended his life, Pirc in a moment of frenzy, apparently brought on by the use of drugs, saturated his clothing with gasoline, then applied a match. He lived in agony for many hours, conscious most of the time, and repeatedly begging Dr. R. S. Irvine, who had charge of his case at the hospital, to save his life, saying he had tried to kill himself but now wanted to live.

Terry McManus, proprietor of the Capitol Hotel where the gruesome event happened, and William P. Smith, a boy friend of the dead youth, were witnesses to the lad's burning. Smith stated that Pirc came to the room in the hotel occupied by them at about 6:15 o'clock Thursday evening and, producing a bottle of gasoline, said he was going to clean a suit. He asked Smith to go into the bath room and get him a bath towel. When Smith came back Pirc had already saturated his clothing with the fluid. Before the horrified eyes of the other youth, Pirc then applied a match. In a moment he was a mass of flames. Apparently regretting his rash act he began screaming for help and rushed from the room. McManus, who hurried up on hearing the cries, and Smith tried to smother the flames, but before they succeeded the boy had been fatally burned. He was taken immediately to the hospital, where everything possible was done to save his life, but he died just before noon the next day.

Antone Pirc Sr., father of the dead youth; Frances Pirc, his sister, and a brother all testified that the suicide had been a confirmed drug addict for over two years and had attempted suicide several times before. In response to questioning by members of the jury, all the witnesses declared they did not know how or where he had obtained the drug. The dead youth had lived in this city about three months. He was employed at the W. P. Fuller plant.

MERCHANTS HEAR SATISFACTORY REPORTS

Coupons Going Fast, Finances Good, Say Secretary and Treasurer.

Many members of the South San Francisco Merchants' Association met at the city hall Wednesday evening for the regular meeting of the organization. A considerable part of the meeting was taken up with the discussion of the Buy at Home campaign now being conducted by the association members, in which prize coupons are being given away. Several more members took coupons to present to their customers with purchases.

A report from Treasurer A. T. Arndt showed the organization to be in good financial condition.

This meeting was to have been addressed by a representative of one of the large wholesale houses of San Francisco on the subject of delivery of goods to the local stores from San Francisco, but because of some misunderstanding in the date the speaker did not appear. An effort will be made to have him present at the next meeting. The merchants are working to get the wholesalers to deliver to this city free of charge, and there is every prospect that the movement will be successful.

After adjournment of the association meeting several members interested in the building association recently organized among the merchants met to discuss plans.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Greene and son moved this week into their new home in High School Park.

HERE'S A WAY TO GET MANY MERCHANTS' ASSOCIATION COUPONS

We refer, of course, to the prize coupons given away by members of the South San Francisco Merchants' Association. These coupons cost you nothing, being given away with each purchase of 25 cents or over, but when exchanged for number-bearing certificates give you a chance at the liberal prizes to be awarded the holders of lucky numbers. Then save your certificates until just before Christmas and you may capture one of the big prizes to be given free.

The Enterprise is giving these coupons along with other members of the Merchants' Association. When renewing your subscription or making a new one The Enterprise will give you double the value of the money paid in coupons.

Think of it! A year's subscription to your home-town paper costs you $2.50 and you will receive coupons to the value of $5! If you are paid up, send The Enterprise to some friend for six months or for one year and get the coupons that may win you one of the prizes to be given every two weeks, or will give you a big start toward the certificates that may capture one of the big prizes for you later on. Two yearly subscriptions will cost you $5, and The Enterprise will present you with a $10 certificate. This, too, in addition to the tickets that will admit two persons each to popular San Francisco theaters. Can you imagine anything more liberal? The first prize will be drawn Friday evening of this week. Pay your subscription today. You may be the winner of the first prize, worth $20.

COUNTY HOSPITAL CONTRACTS AWARDED AT SUPERVISORS' MEETING MONDAY

The awarding of contracts for the furnishing and laying of linoleum and the furnishing and installation of finishing hardware in the San Mateo Community Hospital at Beresford occupied part of Monday's session of the county supervisors held at Redwood City. Bids for these items in the finishing of the building were rejected some weeks ago because all submitted were considered excessive. Plans and specifications were then revised and again bids were called for.

The linoleum contract went to D. N. & E. Walter & Co. of San Francisco, their bid of $4833.52 being $23.52 higher than that of Van Vleet & Co., but the board favoring the former firm on account of D. R. Walter, one of the owners, being a resident and heavy taxpayer of the county. The bid was considerably lower than the estimate of Architect W. H. Toepke.

Wisnom, Bonner & Co. of San Mateo submitted the only bid for furnishing the hardware, their figures being $6323.35.

Barrett & Hilp, the general contractors on the hospital, submitted the only bid for installing the hardware, their estimate being $3400. The board first accepted the bid of Wisnom, Bonner & Co. for furnishing the hardware, and then, upon Barrett & Hilp making a reduction of $200 in their bid, awarded that firm the contract for doing the installing work. Over $2000 was saved by the board in calling for the second bids for the hardware.

SPEEDERS ENRICH CITY TO THE AMOUNT OF $85

Last Sunday Officer Belloni, who is taking City Marshal Conrad's place while the latter is on a vacation, gathered in nine speeders in this city. They came from various points up and down the peninsula and drove cars of varying degrees of polish and value, but they all looked alike to Belloni when they exceeded the speed limit. Wednesday morning they had sessions with Judge E. E. Cunningham in the city recorder's court and more or less gracefully yielded up the sum of $85 to enrich the city's coffers. Eight paid $10 each, while the ninth got off with $5.

PAVING COMPANY STARTS WORK IN PECK'S LOTS

Eaton & Smith, the paving firm recently awarded the contract for paving the streets in Peck's Lots and around the Martin school in the north end of town, have started work grading the streets. As soon as the grading is finished the paving will be begun. The work includes the laying of street paving in Peck's Lots and on School street and Olive avenue and also the laying of curbs and sidewalks near the Martin school.

C. OF C. MEETS IN REGULAR SESSION

Committee Named to Greet Boosters From Mountain View; Delegates to League Appointed.

The meeting of the local Chamber of Commerce, held Tuesday evening at the city hall, brought out a large and enthusiastic attendance.

Secretary F. A. Cunningham announced that the Mountain View Chamber of Commerce was to send a delegation of members to meet San Francisco wholesalers Thursday of this week and that this delegation, some eighteen or twenty members strong, would reach this city about 2 o'clock in the afternoon. En route they will make stops at Redwood City, San Mateo, Burlingame and San Bruno, being entertained by the Chambers of these cities. The Three Cities Chamber will entertain them for a short time at Pacific City. The Mountain View secretary, A. H. Marsh, had communicated with Mr. Cunningham, stating the delegation would like to take a short tour through the factory district of this city. A committee, consisting of A. Hynding, W. J. Martin, G. W. Holston, J. W. Coleberd, E. C. Peck, F. S. Dolley, J. C. McGovern, Robert Speed, and H. Cavassa, was appointed to conduct the party. They will be here only about an hour.

A communication from the Redwood City Chamber asked if the local Chamber would co-operate with the others of the county to place a large and creditable exhibit at the California Industrial Exposition to be held at the Civic Auditorium in San Francisco, October 27th and 28th. A. Hynding, E. C. Peck and Dr. F. S. Dolley were appointed to work out plans for such an exhibit.

A letter from the Civic League of San Francisco asked that delegates from the local Chamber to the League be appointed, and A. McSweeney, W. J. Martin, Robert Speed, G. W. Holston, H. A. Cavassa, Dr. F. S. Dolley, F. A. Cunningham, Dr. J. C. McGovern, J. W. Coleberd, and E. C. Peck were appointed.

FIRE BURNS BILLBOARD.

Man Injured in Fight Swears Out Warrant for Assaultants.

Victor Trevagrino, who was seriously injured in a fight at a soft drink saloon in Millbrae, has sworn out a warrant for his alleged assaultants, naming Joseph Cucchi and his own brother, Reno Trevagrino, in the action.

Trevagrino was brought to the South San Francisco Hospital recently suffering from serious bruises on the head and shoulders and several wounds made with a knife or sharp instrument. According to his statement, he received the wounds in a fight at the soft drink saloon on the highway in Millbrae across the street from the Bungalow. His alleged assaultants are said to live in San Francisco just across the line from Daly City.

J. Winter, special agent for the Southern Pacific Company, has sworn out a warrant for one C. H. Miller of San Francisco, believed to be the driver of a car which ran down and seriously injured two employees of the railroad company on the highway in Visitation recently. The two men were walking along the road at night when they were run down by a rapidly driven car. Each man had a leg broken and both are now in the Southern Pacific Hospital. The driver of the car stopped, spoke to his two victims and then, according to their story, drove away without rendering assistance. The car's license plates

BLUE COUPONS TALK OF THE TOWN

LITTLE PRIZE GETTERS GOING FAST; FIRST PRIZES TO THE VALUE OF $20 TO BE GIVEN AWAY AT THE ROYAL FRIDAY

From all sides in town come reports that the big Trade at Home campaign of the South San Francisco Merchants' Association is going strong and the little blue coupons being given away by members are in great demand. The merchants themselves are getting solidly behind the movement, and they are finding their customers keenly alive to the opportunity of securing fine prizes with these coupons without any additional cost to themselves.

Many inquiries are being made of the merchants about the first prize drawing to be held at the Royal Theater Friday evening of this week. At this time prizes of $20 in merchandise orders will be presented to the holders of the lucky numbers, and all indications point to a big attendance at the theater to see who the fortunate ones will be. Watch The Enterprise next week for their names.

For the benefit of those to whom the coupon campaign plan is not altogether clear, it is here set forth again:

THE COUPON PLAN

With each purchase at any of the stores listed below a coupon showing the amount of the purchase will be given by the merchant or clerk. These coupons are blue and no others should be accepted except the $10 certificate, which is printed on green cardboard. When a customer has blue coupons to the value of $10, exchange them at any of the association stores for a $10 certificate. This certificate has a numbered stub. When you secure your certificate take it to Scampini's store, tear off the numbered stub and place it in the locked ballot box at this store. Every two weeks one of these stubs will be drawn at the Royal Theater on Friday evening, and the holder of the lucky number will be awarded a prize of a $10 merchandise order. To start the thing off well, two $10 prizes will be awarded Friday evening of this week, the time of the first drawing. As not many have secured the numbered $10 certificates as yet, there is an excellent chance for anybody making purchases to the extent of $10 between now and tomorrow (Friday) night of securing a splendid prize.

Another point that should be borne in mind: After depositing the numbered stub in the locked box, be sure to carefully save the remainder of your certificates. A series of rich prizes totaling several hundred dol-

PIONEER RESIDENT DIES AT ADVANCED AGE

By the death of Anson George Bissett of this city, who passed away Tuesday at his home, 710 Olive avenue, South San Francisco loses another pioneer resident and a man who was known to practically every person in town.

A. G. Bissett was 81 years of age at the time of his death. His demise was caused by old age complicated with physical ailments that had kept him in failing health for some months. He came to South San Francisco in 1892 when this city was but a town site with few habitations. Later he married here and was the father of four children, Otto, Ulster, Nancy and Ruth. The two daughters and one son, Otto, survive with the widow, Mrs. Eda Bissett, the other son, Ulster, having been killed in an auto accident in this city May 2d of this year. It is believed the shock of this son's death was instrumental in the father's taking.

The funeral will be held tomorrow (Friday) morning at 10:30 o'clock at All Souls' Church, where mass will be celebrated. The interment will take place at Holy Cross Cemetery.

On Friday morning the Novke home in Huntington caught fire from an overheated stove. The volunteer fire department was called out and extinguished the flames in short order. Later in the day, for a second time, fire broke out in the same premises, and again the firemen were on the job, with the result that but little damage was done to the building.

ADMISSION DAY CELEBRATION SCORES GREAT SUCCESS SAT.

Last Saturday the people of San Bruno assembled to celebrate our state's birthday. Floats, decorated automobiles and bicycles, school children in clothes of other days, a comic section, our old hand-drawn fire cart dressed up like new, and a band to pep things up, all formed part of the interesting, colorful parade.

The Yeomen took first prize for the best float, while the Y. M. I. took second. The Pals of Mercury took the prize for the best decorated machine.

During the rest of the day every one was kept busy enjoying themselves, and the kewpie dolls, nigger babies, hot dogs, ice cream and soda water stands all played a part in the day's activities.

Races were held during the afternoon, the big event being the five-mile race. The event was won by Edmund Eames, with Fred Beltramo second and Dean Beckner third. The winning team, the Woodmen of the World, and the winning man received the coveted cups. This is the second time the W. O. W. have won the team cup; once more, and it is theirs to keep.

August Martinelli won the sack race and the three-legged race, together with Carl Langer.

A dance in the evening brought to an end the many events of a very successful celebration.

CITY TRUSTEES MEET.

With all the trustees present, the board got down to work in good time. The city attorney and the city clerk were delegated to attend the convention of municipalities of northern California at Palo Alto the latter part of this month.

Building permits were granted as follows:

Mrs. Rose, to put a concrete foundation under store on San Mateo avenue and other improvements.

J. F. Perry, to erect two dwellings in San Bruno Park.

Robert Bertozzi, to erect a garage on his premises in Fifth Addition.

C. H. Church, to erect a garage on his Huntington premises.

The Sylvan avenue railroad crossing, which still remains unopened, again came up for discussion. The city attorney expressed the hope of being able to get the railroad companies to come through shortly.

A petition signed by upwards of 100 citizens and taxpayers, requesting the board to "move the city offices to a more central location," was presented, accompanied by a communication from the owners of California Hall (the proposed location), proposing to fit up said building to accommodate the city government as soon as the bank can vacate the premises. Action in the matter was deferred until the next regular meeting on the strength of a communication signed by three representative citizens, declaring that in these days approximately 150 signatures of citizens and taxpayers had been secured to a counter petition, and requesting that additional time be granted to prove that the sentiment of the public is against the proposition.

Warned.

"She refused to marry me," said the young man despondently. "Do you suppose she really means what she says?"

"I don't know," replied the woman hater promptly, "but I wouldn't take any more chances if I were you."—Boston Transcript.

Vicious Suffering.

"Poor chap!" said the sympathetic clubman, as a tired-looking fellow member passed out of the door. "He suffers terribly from nerves."

"I never knew he had them," said his companion.

"He hasn't," said the sympathizer. "They're his wife's."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

ENTHUSIASTIC BRIDGE MEETING AT BURLINGAME

A number of South San Francisco boosters attended the Coyote Point bridge meeting held at the Burlingame city hall Friday evening of last week. The people gathered to hear the speakers from San Francisco and peninsula points discuss the bridge filled the council chamber of the city hall to its capacity. It was a gathering that showed much enthusiasm for the big project which, according to several of the speakers, is now sure to be put through by a group of New York capitalists, headed by the Bensen Engineering Company. The hearers were informed that Frank Elbridge Webb of New York would arrive in San Francisco about the 19th of this month to go into the project thoroughly for the New York financiers.

The meeting was presided over by President J. J. McGrath of the Three Cities Chamber of Commerce, and the speakers included Daniel Imboden, secretary of that organization; Andrew Lawrence, prominent publisher of San Francisco; John B. Leonard, introduced as one of the most prominent bridge engineers of the state; Dr. N. A. Davis of the Foreign Trade Club of San Francisco, and W. J. Martin of this city.

Mr. Imboden gave an interesting talk on his visit to the offices of the Bensen Company in New York, when he succeeded in interesting this concern in the plan for a bridge at Coyote Point. Mr. Leonard's address was illustrated with lantern slide pictures of the location of the Coyote Point and Dumbarton bridges and the formation of the land on the east side of the bay. Dr. Davis spoke of the project as it bore a direct relation to the establishment of a foreign trade zone near San Mateo. Mr. Lawrence's address was an enthusiastic boost for the entire project. Mr. Martin expressed the friendly spirit this city bears toward the Three Cities Chamber and any project that makes for the advancement of the peninsula.

Following the meeting, President McGrath announced the appointment of the following committee to meet Mr. Webb when he arrives: Supervisor John MacBain of Menlo Park (chairman), Harry A. Peckham of San Mateo, Supervisor Mrs. Rosalie M. Brown of San Mateo, Mayor W. H. Pearson of Burlingame, W. J. Martin of South San Francisco, Mayor Thos. J. Brady of San Mateo, Fred Lorton of Burlingame, G. A. Helmore of San Bruno, Mrs. L. E. Aubury of Burlingame, Mrs. Neil Haig of Burlingame, Mrs. John L. McGinn of San Mateo, Mrs. Louis Rebele of San Mateo, Mrs. Robert Dodd of Burlingame, C. E. Fowler of Burlingame, Thomas Bradbury of Burlingame, Fred J. Smith of San Mateo, John J. McGrath of San Mateo, Mayor W. A. Brewer of Hillsborough, Horace W. Amplett of San Mateo, J. E. McCurdy of San Mateo, John L. Debenedetti of Halfmoon Bay, Daniel C. Imboden of San Mateo, Charles N. Kirkbride of San Mateo, E. L. Norberg of Burlingame.

MRS. DINNING RETURNS TO FIND GLAD SURPRISE

Mrs. W. H. Dinning returned to her home Monday evening with her children from a seven months' visit with friends and relatives in Strathroy, Ontario, to find a glad surprise awaiting her here. During her absence Mr. Dinning had built and furnished a beautiful new home at the corner of Eucalyptus and Baden avenues. Entirely in ignorance that the house belonged to her, Mrs. Dinning was invited to inspect the premises on the supposition that it belonged to one of her neighbors. A number of neighbor women went with Mrs. Dinning to look the house over, and it was only after she had expressed great approval of the beautiful new house that her attention was called to certain articles of familiar furniture, and then the glad surprise that it was her own home was sprung. Needless to say, Mrs. Dinning was quite overcome. The house, a six-room bungalow, is one of the most up to date in town and commands a splendid view down the peninsula to the south.

WELCOME, MOUNTAIN VIEW

South San Francisco is today being honored with a visit by members of the Mountain View Chamber of Commerce. To all these businessmen of the hustling city thriving among the fruit orchards to the south The Enterprise bids a hearty welcome. May the brief view of our factories you will get prove interesting to you; may the cool breezes from off the Pacific which will toy with your tresses while you are among us be remembered in days to come when Old Sol, who ripens the prune, sugars the plum, and paints with gold the fat cheek of the apricot and peach of your own bailiwick, also causes beads of perspiration to start from your marble brows.

These friendly visits between businessmen from neighboring towns are a good thing. We should have more of them.

Again welcome, Mountain View.

WHAT A DIME WILL DO

Some one with a penchant for statistics has figured that a dime's worth of electricity, based on a price of 10 cents per kilowatt hour, will perform the following services in the household:

- Operate a six-pound flatiron for one month and a half.
- Operate a six-pound flatiron for one month and a half.
- Do a washing equivalent to twenty sheets each week for about two months and a half.
- Operate a vacuum cleaner long enough to clear about one-tenth of an acre of carpet.
- Operate a sewing machine for twenty consecutive hours.
- Drive an electric fan four hours a day for nearly a week.
- Brew two and a half gallons of coffee in an electric percolator.
- Operate a heating pad for from one-half to one week, depending upon the heat used.
- Operate a foot warmer five consecutive hours.
- Operate a water pump long enough to raise 100 gallons 1100 feet.
- Make 100 slices of toast.—News Bureau.

Some women are never happy until they have acquired a secret and have told it to a dear friend.

It's a fact that some women are like houses. Paint improves their appearance.

As Four Horsemen Ride In Coal Fields

The four horsemen are stalking in the coal fields of the United States, despite the seeming unconcern of the nation for an early settlement of the strike. Conquest, War, Famine—and Death—those are the silent riders which mine families are facing hourly in the struggle between operators and miners. Even while President Lewis of the United Mine Workers was in Washington, conferring with Secretary of Labor Davis—(below), and later with President Harding, riot was ruling at Herrin, Ill., where forty were killed and many wounded before order was restored. Above is shown all that was left of the power house at a strip mine in Herrin, Ill., after dynamite and the torch had been applied. President Lewis refused to agree to plans proposed by President Harding and Secretary Davis to end the strike.

Editor's Note: Rev. Matthews is a Presbyterian Minister in the First Church at Seattle, Wash.

The Presbyterian Church has been one of the greatest forces for liberty, education, and evangelism America has ever had, I think. It was the author of modern representative Republican government.

TO PRESBYTERIANS I think America owes much of her government to the Presbyterian Church. She has been one of this government's greatest examples and most powerful defenders. In the old days the Presbyterian church's adherence to doctrines and principles, added to the strength, character, and integrity of American citizenship. In these latter days, it seems to me, she has come upon perilous times.

FIRST—The Presbyterian Church commits a folly when she permits infamous heretics who deny the deity of Christ and the infallibility of the Bible to stay in her ranks and to occupy her pulpits. I insist she has no right to allow such enemies of God, of home, and of government to carry her name. I think a Presbyterian minister who denies the deity of Christ or the infallible Word of God and continues to occupy a Presbyterian pulpit is drawing his money under false pretenses. We have all taken oath to teach the deity of Christ and the infallibility of God's Word, and for that we receive position and compensation.

SECOND—The Presbyterian Church commits a folly when she becomes a meal ticket for faddists and place-hunters who constantly devise schemes and plans and organizations to increase their power, patronage and patrimony. They live and work exclusively that they may subsist upon such efforts.

THIRD—The Presbyterian Church commits a folly when she permits her enemies to begin to build machinery and centralize her government, thereby detracting from her power. I don't believe Presbyterians will submit to centralized power nor to dictation by agents and machines. They crushed that kind of power once. I hope they will crush it again. It must be crushed in governments and it must be crushed in the church. The Presbyterian Church should return to the sovereignty and power and supremacy of her Presbyterian government and to the control by her presbyteries. Hear my plea! Awake, grand old Church of liberty, righteousness and evangelism.

poem by UNCLE JOHN

There's many a puzzlin' problem that attacks a feller's mind, when discoursin' to a Public, of a mighty various kind. . . . There's some will differ with ye, and there's others that applaud—an' some that won't believe ye on yer oath, so help ye God! Which brings the solemn query into this here humble song: Can anything be honest—yet remain, dead wrong?

HONESTY

I've allers heard that Honesty was fust among the things, that took a man to Heaven, on the shiniest of wings; that a man that wuzzent honest, had mighty nigh as well, consult the ticket agent for the slowest train to hell—So, a little sober thinkin' will arouse the question strong.—Can any man be honest—yet, remain dead wrong? I try to foller reason in the ideas I evolve—an' I sometimes pray fer guidance, when I've got a thing to solve. . . . I've catered more to judgement, than to tolerance or taste, in these days of much palaver where the syntax goes to waste. . . . Let me cast this humbly pebble in the philosophic pool—That Honesty is resky—in the bosom of a Fool!

Yr. own Uncle John.

HOMIE PHILOSOPHY for 1922

The best way to entertain a man is not to entertain him at all. Don't make yourself a four-flusher by giving him a better dinner than you always have. But give him what you have cheerfully. Then, too, your guest knows you've got to work for a living and have lots of things to do, so go an' do 'em, tellin' your friend to do exactly what most pleases him till you get finished. Don't be afraid to say what you think and don't agree if you don't agree, but don't expect your guest to agree with you because you're entertainin' him. Just widen out. Let love an' tolerance be King and Queen of the home while the guest is with you, and then maybe you won't be able to throw them out after he's gone.

Prepared for the Worst.

There was turmoil on deck, feet clattered to and fro, there came a grinding sound, and the engines seemed to stop.

The timid passenger rushed from his cabin and almost collided with the captain.

"What has happened?" he panted. "Be prepared for the worst!" said the captain sternly.

"Where are the lifebelts?" "It's too late to use those," said the captain. "We've done everything we can. Now it's every man for himself!"

He led the timid one to the side of the deck.

"I can't! I daren't look!" he cried. "Tell me what has happened!" "We're in harbor," said the captain gently.—Answers, London.

Still in Harness.

"You are sitting for your portrait?" "Yes," said Mr. Wadleigh, "but I don't want the impression to get around that this is the last episode in an active, if not useful career. I hope it will be some years yet before my friends will be able to gaze at that picture of me and say, 'Well, the old cuss is gone, but he couldn't take his money with him.'"—Birmingham Age-Herald.

The case of H. C. Taylor against Margaret Kelleher, executrix of the estate of J. H. Kelleher, deceased, has been appealed to the superior court. The action was for damages to Taylor's car in the sum of $121.65, growing out of an auto collision on the highway at Lomita Park in which Kelleher was killed. When the case was called August 16th the defendant failed to appear, and judgment was given to Taylor. Mrs. Kelleher has appealed.

LEWIS FILES SUIT.

E. H. Lewis of this city has filed suit in the superior court at Redwood City for $20,491.25 against William A. Westcott of Saratoga. The suit is the result of the death of Charmine Lewis, three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis, who was killed early last April by a truck driven by Westcott. The complaint alleges negligent driving by Westcott.

"Foot-Fitters" Have No Cork
Between the Soles

You are not receiving full dollar value if the shoes you buy have a cork bottom filler between the soles. Such shoes quickly lose their shape, wrinkle over the vamp and form hard lumps on the insole as the cork is squeezed out of place by your weight.

The shoulder channel insoles used in all "Foot-Fitters" are 40 per cent heavier than generally found in other brands. They fit tightly against the outsoles. There is no room nor need for a cork bottom filler.

This is one mighty good reason why your dollars buy more shoe value in Edmonds "Foot-Fitter" Shoes than in other brands. There are six other strong reasons which we will be glad to show you. We'll show you a "Foot-Fitter" which has been cut in two so that you can see what your dollars are buying. Think that over. Then come into our store.

Don't Put It in the Attic

It's Fun to Refinish It Yourself
—We'll Tell You How

MANY lovely home things are put in the attic when they are old only on the outside. They would look as good as new if refinished.

You can refinish them yourself with a little paint, varnish, or enamel, and a bit of work "that is really fun."

We organized a special department just to tell you how to refinish things successfully. Write our "Home Service Department," telling them what you want to refinish and how you want it to look.

Our experts will tell you just how to do the work, what materials, brushes, etc., you need.

We make special paints, varnishes, enamels, wall finishes and stains for you to use. They are the results of 75 years in the paint-making business.

They are the best materials of their kind that we know.

Ask for Fuller's Free Advice and use Fuller's Products to make your home even more attractive than it is now. The work is easy and fascinating. The results are a wonderful reward.

ALL TO THE OAR.

The good ship Higher Education has been launched for us again on a new year. We who are the crew will have to weather the storm until each and every one of us has reached his port or profession.

This will demand our most earnest efforts while we are bending to the oar of our tasks in the sea of knowledge, so let us steer our course with the compass of diligence and perseverance, for without these we will be shipwrecked before we reach our destination.

SENIOR CLASS.

The senior class, so far, has been very successful this term.

In the class this term there are two new members, James Casey and Frances Foley. The new members increase the membership of the class to ten.

The seniors, wishing to help in making the student body 100 per cent in the payment of dues, challenged the other classes, the contest being won by the juniors.

We are sure that if the same spirit and enthusiasm that they now have remains throughout the term, it will be the most successful one they have ever had.

HIGH SOPHOMORE CLASS.

A meeting of the high sophomore class was held September 5th for the purpose of holding an election, which resulted as follows:

President, George Wallace.
Vice-President, Isabel Lynch.
Treasurer, Olga Selmi.
Secretary, Anna Lawler.
Reporter Blue and White, Leona Farrell.
Representatives, Elva Farrario and A. McGovern.

Having no further business the meeting was adjourned.

The class of December '24 prides itself on being the smartest class in the school. Last year at the commencement exercises the class of December '24 was presented with a cup given by the seniors for good scholarship. Although the two sophomore classes ran a tight race for it, the low sophomores won.

The former high sophs. declare they will get the cup yet, but we doubt it.

HIGH FRESHMAN CLASS.

The high freshman class had a very enjoyable, instructive and interesting time recently when Miss Franklin, playing the part of chaperon and teacher, accompanied it to the art museum at Golden Gate Park.

Every one reported having a jolly time, although there were a few stiff necks from looking at so many objects above the extent of their sight.

A class meeting was held September 7th, at which the following officers were elected:

President, Virgil Ringue.
Vice-President, Myrtle Dukeman.
Secretary, Annie Whitehouse.
Treasurer, Enes Tacchi.
Blue and White Reporter, Louise Reid.

THE S. S. F. BLOCK SOCIETY.

The Girls' S. S. F. Block Society, organized at the end of last semester, held its first meeting September 6th. The purpose of this meeting was to draw up a constitution, by-laws and elect officers for this semester. The following officers were elected:

President, Marian Fischer.
Vice-President, Anna Carli.
Secretary, Beatrice Farrell.
Treasurer, Sylvia Thomas.
Reporter, Genevieve Schmidt.

In order to be a member of this society a girl must have won her block letter and has to keep certain training rules during the months of the league games. These rules are:

1. Regular hours for sleeping.
2. Eat slowly and do not overeat.
3. Avoid candy except at the end of meals.
4. Do not eat between meals, except fruits.
5. Do not dance the night before or the day of the game, except after.
6. Be in bed by at least 9:30 the night before a game.
7. Do not drink tea or coffee more than once a day.
8. Do not drink water immediately after a game.
9. Come regularly to practice. Any girl in any athletic event having three unexcused absences during a semester shall be permanently excused from that activity for the semester.
10. Each girl shall dress according to the instruction of the coach.
11. Avoid colds.

Each girl has to take a pledge, which is: I pledge myself to keep faithfully these health rules, that I may be physically fit to play the game with my teammates for the honor of our school. I agree that, if I continually break the above training rules, it shall be the privilege of the athletic coach to suspend me from my activity for a reasonable length of time.

One of the important questions that was discussed was that a girl who, having won five stars and a S. S. F. block, on the night of her graduation was to receive a gold ring with the S. S. F. block engraved upon it.

JUNIOR CLASS MEETING.

The first meeting of the junior class was held September 8th in our class room. As this was a special meeting we did not do much.

We decided on a candy sale in the high school hall on Tuesday, September 12th, at 12:45 o'clock. The proceeds from the sale were $7.91.

The committee reported the "Junior Prom" was to be held September 30th.

His Sweetie—Show me your bank-book. If that is true, you must have saved a lot of money.

Up in the Air.

When Willie returned from the city with his uncle he was asked by his teacher to write an essay, using his impressions of the metropolis as his subject. He wrote:

"While we were in the city I went up in a tall building while my uncle stayed down in the street. When I got to the top I looked down and my uncle looked like an ant."

Harvey Hires Help.

Harvey Brown was known for his thrift. All his life he had managed to work his farm without help. Finally the day came when he had to have help or see part of his bumper crop lost. He telephoned the county agent.

"I want a farm hand to milk cows, feed, harness and separate milk until breakfast. Do field work morning and afternoon and chop a feed at noon hour. One who is handy with tools to help me build a new granary in the evenings, and—"

"Say, mister, ring off!" interrupted a voice. "You've got the wrong number. This ain't heaven."

Figured Him.

Seth Hemway had a reputation far and wide as a person who would not pay his debts.

Grocer Bilkens one day sent his new clerk to collect a bill long overdue.

"And don't come back unless you get it!" was the grocer's parting instructions. A half hour later the clerk walked in and handed over the full amount.

"How in heaven's name did you get all that money out of that old dead-beat?" asked the grocer.

"Huh, I told him I would tell everybody he owed that he had paid me, if he didn't."

AS EDITOR DUNN SEES IT.

"Don't shoot the editor—you may need him next week," counsels a Kansas man, explaining: "A town without a newspaper is a freak, a wonder, not to say a misnomer. Yet in many instances a newspaper is the least appreciated of any institution in the town. It is taken as a matter of course, like the sunshine."—Coastside Comet.

Worth Seeing.

William was thirsty for knowledge and interesting facts shone like jewels in his brain.

"I read today," he said to Michael, "of the wonderful progress made in aviation. Men can now do anything—absolutely anything—a bird can do!"

But Michael was tired of wonders—he was more matter of fact.

"Is that so?" he answered. "Well, when you see an airman fast asleep, hanging on to a branch of a tree with one foot, I'll come and have a look."—London Answers.

"Children are so much trouble," tired parents often say, but they should consider how much trouble parents are to their children.

In An Anthracite Colliery

Slate Pickers at Work.

(Prepared by the National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C.)

Coal is one of the vital factors in modern civilization that is taken for granted. It is only when the priceless black stream that flows to our cities and factories threatens to dry up that the average person gives thought to the importance, magnitude and complexity of the coal industry.

The first thing that impresses one who studies the coal situation in America is the well-nigh inconceivable proportions of the nation's demands for fuel. The highest point in coal production was reached in 1918, the last year of the World war, when slightly more than 600,000,000 tons were mined. But in the year immediately preceding and in 1920 the production was little short of that amount. So huge is this figure that it were almost as futile to use tons as units as to measure the distance around the earth in inches.

About the only way in which one can visualize this demand is to build a mental bin capable of holding enough to meet the national need. If this bin were made with each of its four sides measuring a thousand feet, it would have to be more than 27,000 feet high—almost twice as high as Pike's Peak. Or, if the fuel were put into a coal pile of normal slope, with a base of 20 feet, that pile would have to be nearly 80,000 miles long—more than three times around the earth.

A visit to a modern colliery in the anthracite region is an impressive experience. Depending on its size and the labor available, it will bring from one to two full trainloads of coal up out of the bowels of the earth every day, put the coal through the breaker, where the sheep of fuel are separated from the goats of slate and culm, and load it into the cars ready for market.

Colliery in Anthracite Region.
We shall be safe even if we go down a thousand feet into the earth and roam about in an underground plantation whose area may be judged by the fact that there are 85 miles of railroad track in it.

There are some things on top of the ground that will be even more interesting to us when we go below—particularly the hoisting engine and the ventilating fan, for without the one we would not be able to ride back to daylight, and without the other we would stand a chance of being "gassed" in times of peace.

The giant fans fly around with a rim speed of a mile a minute, two of them, with a third in reserve for emergencies. If it were not for those fans the air in the mine would become so laden with gas and dust that if it did not explode and transform the whole mine into a charnel house, it would develop choke-damp and suffocate us. Every mine has two shafts—the hoisting shaft and the air shaft. In order to keep the air in the mine free enough from gas to permit miners to work in safety, enormous quantities of fresh air must be sent down the one shaft and corresponding quantities, gas-laden, drawn out of the other.

It may very well be imagined that a mine with enough tunneling to call for 85 miles of railroad track needs a great deal of air, and that this air, to reach every part, must cross its own path many times, just as a man, covering all four sides of every block in a city, would have to cross his own tracks. In the mines this is accomplished like a railroad crossing by bridge instead of at grade. When a crossing point is reached, there is a tunnel opened up through the solid rock above the roof of the mine, and through this the air rushes at right angles to its former direction.

To get the air properly distributed, it is necessary to make splits, so that the current can be divided and sent into different sections of the mine. These air splits are doors which permit only half of the air coming their way to pass. The remainder must find some other way through.

We step on the "cage" or lift, the mine superintendent presses a button, and the hoisting engineer is notified that we are ready to go down. Suddenly the cage seems to drop; then it seems to stop, and the walls of the shaft appear fairly to fly upward past us. Up, up, up they fly, disclosing this stratum of rock and then that.

Planned Like a City.

Arriving at the bottom, we soon find that a coal mine is planned like a city. There is one main street, or entry, and it has been laid out with the nicety of a grand boulevard. Parallel with this are the other entries, and across these entries run other streets, at right angles usually, which are called headings. Lining all these headings as houses line the streets are the chambers, or rooms, in which the miners work.

When we stop at the bottom we feel ourselves in a small-sized hurricane. It is the air rushing down the shaft and starting through the mine on its mission of purification. Setting out down the main entry, along a railroad track, we soon hear a clanging bell and a whistle, and presently there looms out of the darkness a yellow light. As it approaches, we see the outlines of what appears to be a long, round boiler creeping along the rails; but in reality it is a compressed-air engine—for compressed air, rather than electricity, is the haulage power in this mine.

When the miners go down to their work in the morning they are checked in by the "fire boss." He is a foreman who has charge of fire prevention and of the safety of the miners while at their several tasks. During the night every section of the mine has been inspected to see whether there is gas anywhere. If there should be an entry, a heading, or a room that is laden with gas, the fact is noted on a slate which is shown to the men as they file past.

The brass check of every miner who enters the workings is taken and hung up on a board, opposite the number of the room in which he is digging coal. If he has a helper, his check—somewhat different—goes up, too; and if there are two men working as partners, that the fact is shown also.

We walk and walk until we begin to feel as though we might be coming out over in China or France, and then we come to the rooms or chambers—for all the coal in the neighborhood of the hoisting shaft has gone up in heat and smoke long before now and this mine is far-flung.

Where the Miner Works.

These rooms or chambers might be monks' cells in some catacombs for the living. Here the miner bores and blasts and digs away the coal and loads it into the mine cars. If he has a helper he does not need to do the loading himself. The car holds about 6,000 pounds of run-of-the-mine coal, and a miner is supposed to fill two of them a day.

When the car is loaded the miner puts his number on it, and presently, with much ado, there comes up the heading and into the passageway leading to the chamber a string of mules walking tandem, or single file, and dragging an empty car behind. They pull out the loaded car, set the empty one where the miner wants it, and go back with the load of coal.

There are other strings of mules, also, and they distribute the empties and mobilize the loaded cars from and at given points. Then the compressed-air engine comes along and makes up a train of loaded cars after dropping one of empties ready for distribution. The coal trains are pulled down to the hoisting shaft, and one by one the cars go to the surface, an empty coming down as a loaded one goes up.

When we reach the top again, we note the layout of the breaker plant, where the coal is cleaned and sorted into the several commercial sizes. The first thing that impresses us is that the mine owners are almost as careful in saving coal as a miser is in hoarding his gold.

Going up to the top of the breaker, we see the coal as it comes from the mine with all its slate and culm, mechanically dumped, a carload at a time, upon the oscillating bars, which begin the process of separating the coal from the worthless material and the assorting of the former into groups according to size.

ANNUAL O. E. S. PICNIC DRAWS LARGE GATHERING

The annual picnic of Ruth Chapter, O. E. S., held at the E. N. The day was pleasantly spent in playing cards and athletic games and a picnic lunch was held at noon. In the footraces the prize winners and prizes were as follows:

In the out-of-doors card party Al Kauffmann won first prize for men, a box of candy, and Mrs. F. A. Cunningham first prize for women, a bottle of toilet water.

MR. AND MRS. H. HYLAND HAVE NARROW ESCAPE

While traveling by auto through Mendocino county recently, Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Hyland of San Francisco, formerly of this city, had an escape from death or serious injury that savored of the miraculous. While driving along a narrow road over a precipitous mountainside the road gave way and the car plunged down over the side. It rolled over four times before reaching bottom. Mr. and Mrs. Hyland escaped with painful but not serious bruises, while the car was reduced to such a wreck that they abandoned it, later selling it for junk. The two were treated at the nearest hospital, and after spending a couple of days there were able to continue their journey.

SMALL BOYS HAVE FUN WITH HANDCAR, BUT LAND IN COURT

Ten small boys from 8 to 12 years of age were up on the carpet in Judge E. E. Cunningham's court this (Thursday) morning for breaking a lock on a Southern Pacific storage shed and taking a handcar out. All but two of the youngsters were discharged with a reprimand. These two, according to testimony the boys responsible for the breaking of the lock, were held to a hearing in the juvenile court at Redwood City next Thursday morning. The boys were found despoiting themselves with the handcar on a railroad track on Railroad avenue last Saturday morning, and were gathered in by a Southern Pacific officer.

A Message for You, Mrs. Housewife:

The merchant who advertises deserves your patronage. By advertising he is proving to you that he carries goods he is proud of at prices he knows will bear comparison.

The merchant who advertises will always be found a businessman who is live, aggressive and worthy of patronage. He is a credit to the town and should receive your trade.

Each time before you come downtown shopping read the advertisements in The Enterprise. They are placed before you to help you solve the problem of buying where you will get the most for your money.

By patronizing our advertisers you help South San Francisco's most enterprising merchants, help South San Francisco, help The Enterprise, but most of all HELP YOURSELF.
